Have You Updated PENNBOC's Mailing Address?

Last year, PENNBOC got a new mailing address -- have you updated your records? The correct mailing address is:

PENNBOC
PO Box 82
Bethlehem, PA 18016

Please verify that your accounting department has the correct address. Occasionally, some members are still attempting to mail to our old Mechanicsburg address. All our other contact information remains the same (e.g., our telephone number, email address, etc.).

PENNBOC's 2019 Conference Slated for September

PENNBOC's Conference & Trade Show is headed back to State College, PA in late September 2019.

Specific venue and dates are still being finalized as of the publication of "Membership News." Keep an eye on your inbox for information.

New PENNBOC Website Coming Soon

PENNBOC is in the midst of a website re-design effort. Our new online home will offer streamlined access to the info you need as well as the ability to join/renew your membership over the internet.

As part of our upgrade, PENNBOC hopes to integrate new platforms to help you earn continuing education credits including live and on-demand webinar classes.

Selecting Your Member Class:

PENNBOC offers four different member classes to accommodate everyone's employment situation: Active, Associate, Corporate, & Student Members.

The "Active Member" class was expanded in 2017 to allow more individuals to qualify.

Active – Any person whose primary duties involve administration, formulation or enforcement of laws, regulations or ordinances relating to public health, safety and welfare for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or a political subdivision thereof, including joint and multi-municipal agencies. Examples of these primary duties include, but are not limited to the PA Uniform Construction Code, Zoning Codes, Property Maintenance and Housing Codes, and Fire Codes. Active members may vote, hold office and chair standing committees, in addition to participation rights afforded to other classes of membership. ($85 per person.)

Associate – An associate member is an individual who does not meet the requirements of an Active member. Associate members have no voting privileges. ($85 per person.)

Student – If you attend school, at any level, studying building trades, design, construction or fabrication, you qualify for student membership. ($15 per person.)

Corporate – The corporate member category is for commercial (for-profit) entities with an interest, indeed a commitment, to the issues of importance to the code community.

Individuals and municipalities cannot be corporate members. Those concerned with the code adoption process, the products which code officials encounter in their day-to-day “enforcement” activities, and the products employed in the tasks of code enforcement would also find this classification of interest. Corporate members may designate up to three individuals to serve on committees, participate in discussions and attend PENNBOC events at the event’s member rate. Corporate members have no voting privileges. Representatives are named when dues are paid and may be changed once during the dues year. ($100 per company.)

Quantity Discounts:

An employer’s first five “Active Members” are billed at the standard $85 per person rate. The sixth and beyond “Active Members” are discounted to $55 per person.

If you have any questions about your Member Class or Quantity Discount eligibility, please visit www.PENNBOC.org or call (717) 730-6036.

PENNBOC Member Benefits

The Pennsylvania Building Officials Conference (PENNBOC) is the state governmental chapter of the ICC. It was organized in 1958; in 1962, it became the first chapter of code officials to receive a charter from BOCA International.

From its earliest days and to better serve its members, PENNBOC divided the Commonwealth into geographic regions (chapters). Each PENNBOC region offers several training & networking events throughout the year. These events present timely training that usually earns ICC’s PPP CEUs. L & I recognizes all PENNBOC-awarded CEUs.

PENNBOC has produced an annual educational conference for almost forty years and consistently produced educational and certification opportunities for its members.

PENNBOC’s website (www.PENNBOC.org) is a great resource for –

- updates & industry news
- employers to post jobs
- members to find job openings
- regions to find training resources
- members to find training classes
- knowledgeable people to offer training
- members to bounce ideas off other members
